Jan Neunzling studied at the Mannheim University of Applied Sciences between 2014 and 2019. From 2014 to 2018 he completed a Bachelor's degree in automation engineering and in 2018 he changed to a Master's degree at the Faculty of Communications Engineering. At the end of 2019 he completed his master's degree with a master's thesis in industry at AKASOL on the subject of ageing detection of Li-Ion batteries. He is currently working on his industrial dissertation.

The research focus is on application-oriented ageing analysis and simulation.
